

New GED Transcript

Starting January 2008, all Nova Scotians writing the GED (General Educational Development) tests will receive a new, more user-friendly transcript. The Nova Scotia GED transcript has been customized for the province and test results are easier to read and interpret.

Every client who takes the GED tests will receive an official transcript of their results and, if successful, will receive a high school equivalency certificate.

For more information:

www.GoNSSAL.ca or 1-800-Go-NSSAL

