

Women are nearly half of all paid workers in Nova Scotia and work at every kind of job. Whether we work for pay, or contribute to our families and communities without pay, women make a vital contribution to our province.

Nova Scotia
Advisory Council on the Status of Women

On March 8, International Women's Day, we're celebrating the accomplishments of all women in Nova Scotia.
You can celebrate too by taking part in an event in your community.

