

How should Nova Scotia manage its water resources?

We'd like to hear your ideas.

You are invited to a public workshop. Share your input on the best ways to protect, preserve, and use our water – today, and in the future.

You can help develop Nova Scotia's strategy for managing our water resources.

Read the discussion paper at

www.gov.ns.ca/enla/water

and attend the public workshop.

Sydney

Thursday, May 1, 2008

6:30 pm to 9:00 pm

Delta Sydney, 300 Esplanade

Or choose from 14 workshop locations at:

www.gov.ns.ca/enla/water

WATER for LIFE

NOVA SCOTIA

A message from the Province of Nova Scotia.

Nova Scotia aims to have one of the cleanest and most sustainable environments in the world by 2020. To help reach that goal, new strategies are being developed for water, natural resources, energy, climate change, and coastal management. To learn more or take part, see The New Nova Scotia: A Path to 2020 at www.gov.ns.ca/2020.