

Are you a community-based organization with expertise in employment programming for workers aged 55-64?

If so, you're invited to submit a project proposal to the Targeted Initiative for Older Workers. This federal-provincial partnership supports unemployed, older workers (aged 55-64) in communities that have been affected by downsizing or closures, or are experiencing high levels of unemployment.

If your organization can help these Nova Scotians re-enter the workforce or better prepare them for employment in a changing workplace – and you are able to meet established requirements and criteria – funding may be available.

Visit www.olderworker.ca for more information on the application process.
