

Foster Care

Foster Families Needed

We are looking for families interested in accepting the challenges and rewards of caring for youth with substance abuse difficulties.

Foster parents help guide and support adolescents as they move into adulthood. Foster parents also receive per diem monetary compensation to assist with costs associated with helping an adolescent in their care.

To be a foster parent of an adolescent with substance abuse difficulties you must:

- be willing to attend training and work with a team of professionals
- provide a routine and structured environment
- provide a high degree of guidance and supervision

Our youth need your guidance and support.
