PO Box 2664
Halifax, Nova Scotia B3J 3P7

Attention: Review Committee

*If you are interested in energy-related research,
we can help you.*

Exciting energy prospects and excellent professional and technical training programs come together in Nova Scotia, promising great opportunities for innovative research and growth of new ideas.

This grant is designed to support researchers investigating areas of importance to Nova Scotia's growing energy sector. Up to four (4), non-renewable grants of $15,000 each will be available each year to Nova Scotians who are preparing to begin full-time studies in a Master's level program in Earth Sciences, Business* or Engineering at a Nova Scotia university.

- * Exporting Nova Scotia's energy sector expertise is critical to sustaining the capabilities and capacity of the local industry. Students entering the second year of a full-time MBA program at a Nova Scotia university are eligible to apply. The award targets students who, under the guidance of a faculty supervisor, will undertake a summer internship focused on international business linking Nova Scotia's supply and service capabilities to attractive export markets. The results of this research will normally form the basis of a major research paper in Year 2 of the MBA.
