

Recognition Team Recruitment - Sample Email

Is our department doing everything it can do to recognize those who go above and beyond to get the job done? Do you have a co-worker who deserves recognition for their daily dedication and contributions to the public good? Are you satisfied with the current level of recognition displayed in our office?

Our department is creating a recognition team and looking for interested participants. This is an opportunity for you to help improve our department's recognition practices and create activities that reward hard work and dedication in ways that employees want.

If you are interested in a recognition program that is interested in you, please contact XXXX for more details.
